Dear Andy:

It is a real pleasure to send a note to say how impressed and pleased we were to have had [redacted] with us for two days this week. I'm afraid we worked him far beyond the "call of duty" but only because he showed such unusual enthusiasm, insight into our problem areas, and willingness to keep going hour after hour.

With men like [redacted] in responsible positions, it is obvious why [redacted] have attained a high level of cartographic excellence.

Sincerely yours,
